Rarely Seen Rooms in the Jules Stein Eye Institute (JSEI)

3:30 pm depart Luskin Center
4:00 pm begin tour at JSEI

The Jules Stein Eye Institute contains a number of stunning period rooms that are unknown to most of the UCLA community and little-seen by people outside the JSEI. These include:

- a room designed by the 18th-century Scottish architect Robert Adam
- a room formerly part of an 18th-century townhouse in London, once the home of the Earl of Dudley and later the British Foreign Office
- a room from the Santa Monica beach home of actress Marion Davies
- a room created by Walt Disney as a gift to Jules Stein designed by Mary Blair, creator of the Small World attraction at Disneyland

Victoria Steele, UCLA Curator of Public Art (and an early member of ALHHS) will lead a lively, fast-paced walking tour. There will be a few surprises along the way, too (sliced books! an Oscar statuette!).

Tour #5 4:15-5:30 pm, Thursday, May 10 (limited to 15 people)

Kleinrock Center for Internet Studies

Docent: Charlotte B. Brown (UCLA University Archivist emerita)

Gathers and leaves at 4:15 from front entrance of the Charles E. Young Research Library, immediately following adjournment of the annual meeting
